Introduction

Legislation Governing the Municipal Census

The authority for the conduct of a Municipal Census is established in section 57 of the Municipal Government Act (MGA) of Alberta. Council authorized the conduct of the 2009 Municipal Census on December 16, 2009.

Pursuant to section 604(b) of the MGA, the Minister may make regulations respecting the determination of the population of a municipality and establish the requirements for a municipality to conduct a census. Under the Determination of Population Regulation 63/2001, Parkland County must conduct the census between April 1, 2009 and June 30, 2009. On completing an "official census", Parkland County must submit the census results to the Minister of Municipal Affairs before September 1, 2009.

Census Significance

A Municipal Census provides not only a count of the residents of a municipality but also provides data that can be used to help in service provision decisions or can be used to document trends. This census provides information on the number of residents and populations by age, electoral district, hamlets, township and subdivision.

The data has been aggregated to ensure individual statistics are kept confidential, when identifying population demographics.

This document is prepared to provide readers with a brief overview of population demographics in Parkland County.

Purpose

The Municipal Census was conducted to provide Parkland County with population demographics on the total number of residents and the number of residents that are five years old and under, six to seventeen years old, and eighteen years of age and older. These population demographics can be used to claim per capita grants, calculate cost sharing agreements, indicate growth patterns, promote economic development, determine recreation needs, provide school planning, and assist with future service and development decisions.

Census Process

Parkland County was divided into 42 enumeration areas based on approximately 300 dwellings each, with each area being no greater than a township and a half in size.

Deana Phillips was contracted as the Municipal Census Coordinator on March 16, 2009. The Municipal Census Coordinator hired and trained enumerators and managed the entire enumeration process.

Legislative and Administrative Services prepared the 2009 Municipal Census Training Manual for enumerator training, with 42 enumerators and two spares attending training on April 27, 2009.

Each enumerator attended either the morning or afternoon training session. The training session included:

- Picture Identification preparation
- Enumeration Package delivery (includes forms, mapping, supplies, etc.)
- Administration of oath for enumerators
- Introduction of the census team (Deana, Jennifer, and Doug)
- Training from the 2009 Municipal Census Training Manual
- Safety Training (known problems, danger signs, dog tips, etc.)
- Map reading samples
- Questions.

Safety Training included presentations by Jewel Day-Hampton on Parkland County's Safety Program and Mary Coughlan on dog body language and dog safety tips.

The 2009 Census was promoted to the public as follows:

- Parkland County's Website (News Release and various updates)
- Parkland Communicator (January, March and May publications)
- Examiner/Reporter (April 10 – May 29, 2009 publications)
- Parkland School Division Newsletter distribution
- Parkland Cinema (On-screen promotion, April to end of May)
- Tri-Leisure Centre's electronic sign and bulletin boards
- Posters posted by community associations
- Promotions at the April Tri-Municipal Tradeshow.

Census Day was May 1, 2009, and census enumeration occurred from May 1, 2009 to June 19, 2009. Parkland County residents were asked three questions by enumerators: How many people reside in the residence as at May 1, 2009? How many of those people are five years of age and younger? How many of those people are six to seventeen years old?

Census Findings

Census Participation Rate

Parkland County enumerated 16,246 residential properties during its 2009 Census. 5,823 of these properties were not counted for the following reasons: vacant (no one was living in the home), house under construction, no dwelling on the property, or recreational property (i.e., seasonal home/cottage). Of the remaining properties, Parkland County reports a participation rate of 99.16%.

Total Population

As at May 1, 2009, Parkland County has a total population of 30,089 residents. This total population identifies 6.916% (2,081 residents) as five years of age and younger, 17.88% (5,382 residents) as six to seventeen years of age, and 75.19% (22,626 residents) as eighteen years of age and over.

The 2005 Municipal Census established Parkland County's population at 29,679 residents, therefore, the County's population has increased 1.38%, or 410 residents, from 2005 to 2009 (4 years).

As of May 1, 2009, the average residents per dwelling are 2.5. The average resident per dwelling is calculated by dividing the total population of 30,089 by 11,936 permanent dwellings.
