 Atim Creek / Big Lake Floodplain

Note: This map is for general information only. Parkland County does not guarantee its accuracy. All information should be verified. The floodplain is the hatched area adjacent to Big Lake / Atim Creek and connected watercourses. Flooding may still occur outside of the designated floodplain area.

The extent of the floodplain boundaries shown are based on Figure 1 and Figure 2 of the 'Big Lake Basin Task Force: Floodplain Delineation for Atim Creek from Campsite Road to Big Lake Study' (Sameng, March 2007).

Due to the map scale, this map does not represent the precise boundaries of the 100-year floodplain of Atim Creek / Big Lake. It is intended to be used only as an indicator of areas of concern. Floodplain boundaries and flood construction levels must be determined for any application by a qualified professional engineer who certifies, subject to conditions contained within the report, that the land may be used safely for the intended use.
